“Natasha James is an American Troubadour in the purest sense of the word. The Sonoma, California-based singer-songwriter emotes from her soul and approaches her material with an authenticity and grit and harbors no pretense or fabrication. She speaks the truth and her songs vibrant and illustrious stories that are as compelling as those of Woody Guthrie, Lucinda Williams or Gram Parsons, of whom she is often compared.” Eric Harabadian, MUSIC NEWS NASHVILLE. (TN)

“Natasha James can certainly kick up the dust with a jukebox worth saloon song about life on the edge, paint a lyrical portrait of America, complete with all its’ blemishes. She is at her finest doing both adding a bit of the blues, her wickedly husky vocals strut through the music like a cocky outlaw.” Allen Foster, SONGWRITERS MONTHLY

“Her songs play like cinematic vignettes with poetic lyricism, country steeped in blues and tex mex with a nod to Janis Joplin and Emmy Lou Harris.” MUSIC CONNECTION (LA, CA)

“Natasha James gives us a blend of bluesy country rock delivered by one of the best California troubadours to come from the West Coast in years...the spirit of Gram Parsons lives on in California music.” Jerry Henry, PLANET WEEKLY (Tuscaloosa, Alabama)

“Natasha’s sultry vocals have been compared to country diva Loretta Lynn and blues icon Bonnie Raitt, and I second that motion...We are lucky to have wonderful recording artists like Natasha.to help carry on our musical heritage.” CASHBOX Magazine (TN)
